THE MOUNT

first year book of the College is dedicated to

MOTHER MARGARET MARY

the valiant woman

who

as first Superior and first President of

MOUNT SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE

dreamed the dream we see today in glorious reality

MOUNT SAINT MARY'S

My college is a multitude of fine things;
A great white, bird, with window-eyes
a brooding on its wings;
An opened iris blossom
ethereal and wan,
Sleeping like a fairy
on a moonlight-furrowed lawn;
The walls are white stone tablets
leaning two by two,
Knicked and scarred and stylus-marked
by all its students do;
A white and burning furnace—
a squab clay-moulding kiln—
Firing hearts to love-cups
for a college on a hill.

Margaret O'Connell Knoell

In this, the first issue of

THE MOUNT

The Prospectors of '47 share with you some of the treasures they have gathered during their search for the gold of knowledge.

"The deeper the shaft, the richer the gold"

EL DORADO

Gaily bedight
A gallant knight,
In sunshine and in shadow,
Had journeyed long,
Singing a song,
In search of Eldorado.

But he grew old—
This knight so bold—
And o'er his heart a shadow
Fell as he found
No spot of ground
That looked like Eldorado.

And, as his strength
Failed him at length,
He met a pilgrim shadow—
"Shadow," said he,
"Where can it be—
This land of Eldorado?"

"Over the Mountains
Of the Moon,
Down the Valley of the Shadow,
Ride, boldly ride,"
The shade replied,—
"If you seek for Eldorado."

Edgar Allan Poe

May your graduation from Mount St. Mary's be for you an occasion of joy and satisfaction as you look back at the achievements of the past years, of hope and confidence as you face the future. The world needs Catholic women like you; it needs your sincerity, your ideals, your courage. Your college needs you, too; needs your loyal support, your generous cooperation in all its undertakings. May this book, "The Mount", be a bond linking the college with the new life unfolding before you. May you often "lift your eyes to the mountains" and may the motto of your Alma Mater—DEUS ILLUMINATIO MEA—be the prayer that will sustain you, that the light of His love may shine down the years steady and strong and true, guiding you through failure and triumph to perfect peace.

Sodality of Our Lady AD JESUM PER MARIAM

Mount Saint Mary's College Sodality stems from a small band organized over four hundred years ago in Rome by John Leonius, S. J. In his period of reformation and counter-reformation, sodalists met the challenge of the times so well that associations of a similar nature spread from Rome to every part of the Christian world. Today Catholicism and Communism are at war. Are modern sodalists going to do battle for the cause of Christ in the way demonstrated by the first sodalists?

Our Holy Father, Pope Pius XII has well expressed the need for sodalists today in these words, "... the model of a Catholic which the Sodality has set itself from its beginning to form, has perhaps never so well corresponded to the needs and contingencies of any time as it has today, and no time has needed it so urgently as ours."

The Sodality of Our Lady aims to foster in its members an ardent devotion, reverence, and filial love towards the Blessed Virgin Mary. Through this devotion it seeks to make its members sanctify themselves in their own particular state of life, and zealous to save and sanctify their neighbor and to defend the Church of Jesus Christ.

Mount Saint Mary's College Sodality cooperates whole heartedly with every parish and archdiocesan enterprise which is within its scope, in order to train sodalists for future parish activity when they finish college. Directed to this aim, Our Lady's Committee fosters devotion to the Blessed Virgin. The Eucharistic Committee is concerned with the Christ of the Tabernacle in every activity from First Friday devotions to making altar linens. The Literature Committee disseminates food for the Catholic mind through magazines subscriptions such as Sign, The Catholic Digest, America, Extension, The Catholic Mind, and Today's World. This committee motivated not only our own campus Book Week, but also the arch-performs many spiritual and corporal works of mercy. Its efforts clothed some of the children of Italy, fed some of the children of the world, sent books to the Philippines, and brought help to many places in the world through the steadily increasing pagan baby fund. The Publicity Committee acts to keep all Sodalists informed diocesan Book Week held at the Mount. The Apostolic Committee on Sodality activities.

Peggy Wylie, Treasurer; Ann Hall, Vice-Prefect; Dorothy, Anita Morrison, assistant vice-Prefect, and Pearl Butier, Secretary, a few minutes before a Sodality assembly.

Committee Heads—I. to r.; Shirley Teichman, Literature; Marguerite Biggs, Publicity; Hallie Bundy, Eucharistic; Adelaide Spuhler, Apostolic; and Winifred Gegg. Our Lady's, at the newly erected shrine of the Little Flower.

The student body assisting at St. Patrick's Day Mass followed by a kelly-green breakfast.

The members of each committee functioning in specialized ways as part of the Mystical Body of Christ try to live through the help of the Sodality that life which Christ Our Lord has expressed even to each Mount girl today, "I am the vine, you are the branches."

 Sixth Row: Wylda Hudson, Marion Tripeny, Gloria Hammerstrom.

"Stairway to the Stars" was the theme of the dance sponsored by the juniors at the beginning of the fall semester. A few class parties, the defeated but undismayed basketball team, and social nights filled the junior calendar. The year ended with the Junior-Senior prom held at the Bel-Air Hotel and the annual reception given to the seniors after graduation.

A collage of black and white photographs featuring young women, likely members of a school organization, in various poses and settings. The photos are arranged in a circular pattern around a central group photo. The central photo shows a large group of about ten young women sitting and standing together. Surrounding this are numerous smaller photos: some show individual women smiling, others show small groups of two or three women, and a few show women in more formal or active poses. The photos are cut out and pasted onto a light background, creating a circular arrangement. The women are dressed in mid-20th-century attire, including blouses, sweaters, and skirts. The overall tone is cheerful and nostalgic.

PATRICIA BORCHARD

Oxnard, California

... angora socks, Catalina swim suits, a giggle that penetrates the slowest wit is Borch, whose little blue Ford rates a "D.S.C." for four years' transportation service beyond the call of duty. Patty's heart is under the personal care of Dr. Jack Watson, who is taking a special pride in this patient.

HALLIE BUNDY

Santa Monica, California

... pillar of the chem lab, pebble on the beach, co-creator of "Simple Sal" is Hal. Remarkably resembles her "Mr. Woo," a blond blue-eyed Pekingese, to whom Hal is most faithful. Accompanied on her daily hikes by O'Callaghan; seen on the tennis courts with Erin; usually on the bottom of the pile in a basketball game; reserves a smooth sophistication for special social events; follows the best beach club fashions; intends to work towards her M. ... ski-togs, play scripts, lab books, a knack for being caught snow-bound, a booming voice and ever-ready laugh paint the backdrop for Jeanne, a unique combination of science and drama. Famous for her dramatic mid-morning entrances into physical chemistry, Jeanne never tires of that worn-out excuse about her jeep's temperament. Most unusual is Jeanne's desire to enter the veterinary profession.

Women's Athletic Association

Patrica Gisler, President of the W.A.A.

The Women's Athletic Association was organized at Mount Saint Mary's in the spring of 1945 under the leadership of Virginia Brown and Helen Reimann. At first activities were limited, but with the expansion of the college many sports were incorporated under the W. A. A.

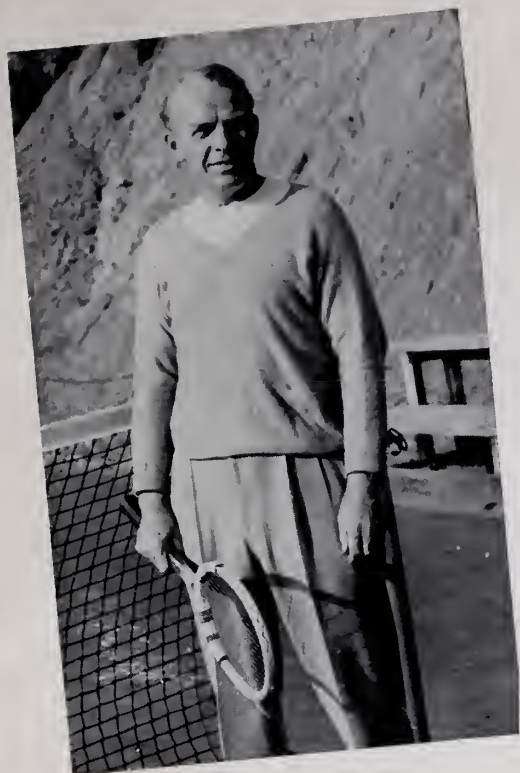

This years has seen the advent of golf, skiing, and bowling and increased interest in tennis, volleyball, and basketball.

Annually the W.A.A. sponsors a competitive field day.

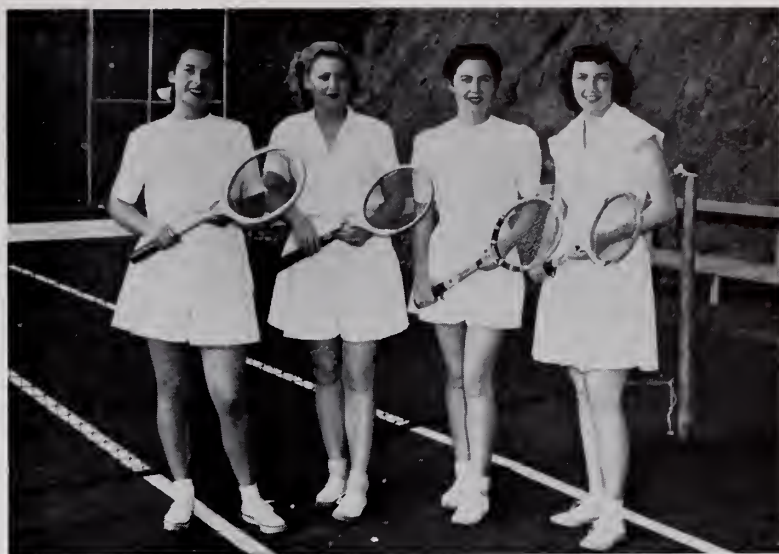

The executive committee this year includes Pat Gisler, President; Hallie Bundy, Vice-President; Mary Carroll, Secretary; Carol Sebastian, Treasurer; Barbara O'Callaghan and Betty Wekal, freshman representatives.

Student tennis teachers Pat Gisler, Mary Carroll, Pat Borchard and Helen Connelly with their classes.

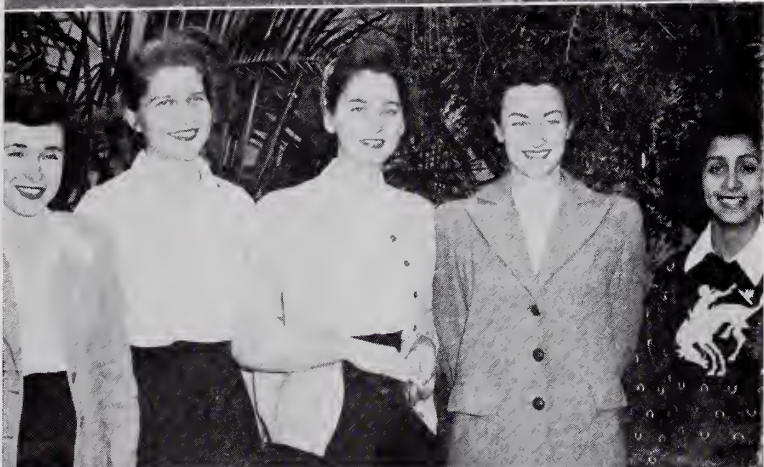

Under the leadership of Mr. Al Scott, tennis has become the predominant sport of the W.A.A. Student teacher classes have been in progress with Mary Carroll, Helen Connelly, Pat Borchard, and Pat Gisler conducting. Competitive matches were arranged with Pomona, Redlands, Occidental, and Santa Barbara.

COMPETITIVE SPORTS

Volleyball season began in September at the Mount and ended before the Christmas holidays. Interest reached a peak when the Mount varsity played the varsity of Catholic Girl's High. The game ended by moonlight with Mount girls victorious.

In an out-of-season revival a Mount volleyball team opposed a team from Loyola University to amuse both players and spectators at the third annual View Birthday Party. Score—Mount 18, Loyola 2.

Bowling, the newest division of the W.A.A., was organized during the second semester of 1947. It is here to stay, however, having proved that fun can be had without professional skill. In two matches with Woodbury the Mount bowling team won two out of six games.

Spring brought intra-mural basketball to the Mount. Teams from every class practiced during noon hour. After a sufficient warming-up period, games were duly played, cheered and recorded in preparation for the championship game on field day.

Thirty members of the newly formed Golf Club receive weekly lessons from Al Demaret and Bill Roberts, professional golf instructors. The driving range at Santa Monica and Wilshire has been the scene of many profitable afternoons.

The Press Club

Organized in September, 1946, the threefold purpose of The Mount Saint Mary's Press Club is:

...to spread truth through both the Catholic and the secular press.

...to strive for the highest standards of artistic and accurate journalism

...to make articulate the ideals and activities of Mount Saint Mary's through the campus newspaper, The View.

On April 15 The View celebrated its second birthday with a carnival, varsity show, picnic supper and dance. This anniversary party promises to become a Mount tradition. Through its two years of development, The View has taken on the earmarks of a cosmopolitan newspaper, with an ever-growing skilled staff, an increased number of publication dates and an enthusiastic public.

Twenty gold "quill and scroll" pins were awarded the charter members of MSMC Scribes in February; pins will continue to be given at the close of each semester to those having proved themselves faithful staff workers.

Always smiling, though in charge of headache department, is Regina de Coursey, Business Manager of The View.

A news story is sighted:

Reporter Joann Lindenfeld and Photographer Dolly Bowler capture an exclusive interview and picture of Reverend J. S. Kennedy. Job of the newspaper reporter is to track down and record the facts, later to tie them up with clipped, concise yet reader-catching language.

Copy is prepared for press:

Betsy Knieriem, Georgia Philbin, and Mary Jensch, check type-written stories ready for press and add headlines, while Ruth Kuntz, Adelaide Spuhler and Dolly Meyer approximate the spatial arrangement of stories on the printed page.

Galley-proofing and dummy set-up:

Proof reading the galley (the printed stories) for errors and pasting the dummy of the finished View together are Carolyn Washburn, Christina Murray, Kathryn Below, Mary Krug, Betty Lou Beattie and Alice Kraemer. This is the most important step in the process for with poor layout and numerous mistakes, even the best-written stories lose their attractiveness.

Criticism and "back patting"

Grouped around Editor Lois O'Connell, the section editors Julie Hall, Gerry Cassutt, Ann Hall, Margie Stack, and Joann Lindenfeld discuss the final product, make both favorable and unfavorable comment, analyze reader value, campus coverage, and suggest additions for bigger and better Views.

Dr. Mary Stanton
Adviser of SWES

SWES, formed in the fall of 1946, unites the social welfare, economics, and sociology departments. The club began with more than thirty members and many others have joined in the course of the year.

The purpose of SWES is to co-ordinate the activities of the three departments and to foster interest in the solution of social and economic problems.

The club has held monthly meetings and has heard many interesting speakers. The main project of SWES has been the adoption of a settlement house in San Fernando. Every week several members drive down to the settlement where they help Sisters Celine and Theresa, Sisters of Social Service. Girls come home from their tasks there, satisfied to have helped others toward a bit more happiness.

Second Row: Hallie Bundy, Margaret Moore, Jacqueline Fletcher, June Lattimore, Patricia Becker, Willa May Dowd, Dorothy O'Callaghan, Betty Wekall. Third Row: Carol Sebastian, Patricia Spain, Winifred Gegg, Patricia Borchard, Muriel Rochefort, Catherine Hogan, Frances Shannon.

Kappa Theta Mu, the science club, comprises majors in the various scientific fields, biological sciences, chemistry, home economics, mathematics and nursing. Each department sponsors a monthly meeting with a program designed to promote scientific interest and enjoyment. Notable among these this year were a meat demonstration by a staff member of Swift & Co., a lecture on the atom bomb by Dr. Doescher professor at U.S.C., a panel discussion on atomic energy by Frances Shannon, Dorothy O'Callahan, Hallie Bundy and Winifred Gegg, and a lecture with the aid of kodachrome slides on desert plant life by Mrs. Burkenbilt, instructor in disease bacteriology.

Various field trips were undertaken during the year under the auspices of the groups concerned.

The club is succeeding in its aim to foster general scientific interest among the students.

The International Language Club was organized in the fall of 1945. It comprises students of the French, German, Italian, and Spanish classes, and their friends. Various out-of-class activities planned throughout the year have emphasized the social aim of creating international understanding, interest in and love for people of other nationalities. The cultural aim has been attained through the presentation of musical and dramatic programs, through participation in lectures and foreign dinners, and through monthly meetings on the campus.

Education Club

The Education Club was founded in February, 1946 with Mrs. Dora J. Reese as faculty adviser. The Education Club, in its inauguration, offered invitations to "anyone interested in education—not necessarily one studying for the education field." Charter officers were Rosemary Brady, president; Kathleen O'Hanlon, vice-president; Shirley Teichman, secretary; and Corinne Falvey, treasurer.

Business and social activities have high-lighted the life of the club. A few of these activities included the observance of National Education Week, November 11-16, affiliation with the California Student Teachers' Association, presentation of educational films, lectures by speakers well-known in the educational field, visual-aids demonstration, Brentwood teachers dinner and a picnic "just for fun." Officers this year were Shirley Teichman, president; Corinne Falvey, vice-president; Mary Joanne Lindenfeld, secretary-treasurer; and Mary Jensch, publicity chairman.

Glee Club

Mr. Raymond Hill and Mr. Will Garroway direct the glee club. The activities of the Mount are always enhanced by this choral group. Patricia Keelan, Charlotte Aguiar, Elaine Meena and Shirley Teichman had auditions for the Atwater Kent contest for non-professional singers. The Glee Club's outstanding performances for the year were those for the visit of Bishop Manning, the Bill of Rights Program, the Alumnae Hat Show, Pergolesi's Stabat Mater and the annual play, The Rebound.

Orchestra

The string ensemble displays a fine talent and offers good listening. The ensemble accompanied all the important performances of the glee club. Mr. Herbert Gray and Sister M. Timothy direct the group.

The Mount Saint Mary's College Unit of the American Red Cross began operations on campus on November 16, 1943. To enable Mount girls to participate in Red Cross work on their home campus was the incentive for its formation. Sister Mary Marguerite, head of the home economics department, is faculty adviser of the unit.

At present the more active corps include Production, Community Service to Camp and Hospital, and Public Information. Less active since the war are the Canteen, First Aid, Nurses Aide and Blood Donor Corps.

Among the many activities carried on by the unit, the Christmas drive for gifts for hospitalized veterans is the most popular. Other activities include the annual membership campaign, the bi-weekly parties at Sawtelle and Birmingham Hospitals, and the first aid and nutrition classes.

Corps chairmen are (l. to r.): Pat Campbell, Marillyn Wetzel, Peggy McLoone, Adelaide Spuhler, and Corinne Falvey.

To Mount St. Mary's College

*To our Alma Mater we will sing a song,
A song of loyalty.
From St. Monica's all gracious hills
The music shall resound
In a glorious ever-widening ring
Of truest melody,
A song that fills our hearts, then thrills
Half the world around.*

*Mount Saint Mary's praises fling
To the hills, to the sea,
To the islands beyond*

*Let a royal shout ring out
From the skies deep blue
To the purple Mount.*

*To our cherished school we pledge fidelity.
A faith of strength and truth.
Through the decades of future years
Our thoughts will turn to you,*

*Though our courses are many miles apart,
The visions will not fade
The memories of each happy year,
Written in our hearts' memoirs.*

Spurred into action by an ardent desire to retain something tangible by which to remember their four years at The Mount, "The Prospectors of 1947" in October voted to bring into reality this first college annual. Enthusiastic Kay Moody was unanimously selected as editor-in-chief.

Assembling the yearbook meant tedious hours of work for the inexperienced staff, who were treading on new ground. The selection of theme, art work, budgeting of space, and make-up of each page required careful planning in order to produce a finished product worthy of the college it represents.

If the first issue of THE MOUNT brings pleasure to its readers, the staff's work will be adequately rewarded.
